

2016 Adult Summer Reading Program

Magazine Bangle Instructions:

If using gum wrappers, begin here:

1. Remove the outer paper wrapping (not the foil) from a 3-inch-by-¾-inch stick of gum. Open it up.
2. Fold the paper in half the long way. Tear it along the fold to make two long pieces.
3. Follow Steps 4 through 12.
- 4.

If using 1-inch-by-3-inch paper, begin here:

4. Fold one piece in half the long way.
5. Open it up. Fold the edges into the center.
6. Fold it over again the long way.
7. Bring the ends together.
8. Fold the ends into the middle. This creates two “slots” on the sides of the link.
9. Repeat previous steps to make another link.
10. Fit the two ends, or “prongs,” of one link into the slots of the other and pull through.
11. To finish, fit the prongs into the slots at the bottom of each link—ends up and down to create a zigzag pattern.
12. To make a bracelet or necklace, count that you have an uneven number of links. Then make one more link, but unfold the prongs. Insert prong ends into the slots of the last link at one end of chain. Then refold these ends over and into the slots in the last link on the other end of your chain. It may help to use a paper clip to push these ends through! Or simply cut a tiny piece of tape to seal the ends.
